INCOME FROM FRENCH FOREST

Beautiful Spot Made to Yield a Revenue Worth Entering on the Ledger.

The forest of Compeigne, France, though a realm of beauty and enchantment to its lovers, is yet made by the state to yield an annual income of 100,000,000 francs ($20,000,000). For this purpose it appoints 7 brigadiers and 27 gendarmes, besides several garden-canoniers. The canoniers look after the roads, the guards protect the rights rented to the sportsman and wood cutter—the two great clients from whom these revenues are derived—200,000 francs a year being paid by the sportsman and 800,000 francs by the wood merchant. The guard must also see that these two groups of clients never encroach on each other's rights, for though the sportsman may hunt on the wood merchant's land, he cannot carry from it a splinter of green wood; while the wood merchant would have a suit brought against him if he were to pocket so much as a rabbit found burrowing under one of his dearly bought trees. And some of these trunks are dear, one of oak frequently costing him 1,000 francs.

TAKING A CHANCE.

Miss Antique—Just think of the nerve of that impecunious fellow to propose to me.
Miss Cautique—Nerve? Why, it was absolute recklessness.

CITIZEN PAPERS.

A man "must have the same witnesses on his second visit for his citizen papers that he had on his first." Such is the plain demand of the law in the case. The men who begin with you must see you through to the end. If you take new witnesses on the second visit no attention will be paid to them by the court. You can see how, were the law other than it is, a world of trouble could arise. The final papers make you a full-fledged citizen, as much so as though you had lived here all your life. With such papers no foreign nation can "impress" you into the service.—Exchange.

WANTED HER HUSBAND.

Algot Lange, who is exploring the Amazon river for the University of Pennsylvania, is authority for the statement that savage races can no longer be tempted to part with valuables in exchange for brilliant-colored cloth and beads, and that guns, knives, hammers, axes and other useful articles must be carried in the explorer's pack, if he expects to secure samples of native handicraft in the unexplored regions of the world.—Popular Mechanics.

AGREED.

Hokus—Toothache, eh? I'd have the blamed thing pulled if it were mine.
Pokus—So would I, if it were yours.—Puck.

NOT WITH A RELISH.

"You don't like corn on the cob?"
"Not very much, but how did you know?"
"You eat it so gracefully."

GOOD HEARTED.

First Boy—These automobile guys never give a feller a ride.
Second Boy—Oh, some of 'em do—if dey run over yer!—Life.

NO DOUBT.

"My second husband was batty and my third was dangerous."
"I presume, then, that you are agitating for a safe and sane Fourth."

A READY REBUTTAL.

"Do you realize that you live in a billion-dollar country?"
"No, I don't. Lend me a quarter."

Rochester, N. Y.—"I have a daughter 13 years old who has always been very healthy until recently when she complained of dizziness and cramps every month, so bad that I would have to keep her home from school and put her to bed to get relief.

"After giving her only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound she is now enjoying the best of health. I cannot praise your Compound too highly. I want every good mother to read what your medicine has done for my child."—Mrs. RICHARD N. DUNHAM, 311 Exchange St., Rochester, N. Y.

Stoutsville, Ohio.—"I suffered from headaches, backache and was very irregular. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of two bottles I found relief. I am only sixteen years old, but I have better health than for two or three years. I cannot express my thanks for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had taken other medicines but did not find relief."—Miss CORA B. FOSNAUGH, Stoutsville, Ohio, R. F. D., No. 1.

Hundreds of such letters from mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for their daughters have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.
